SUMMER SHOW . . . Skipper Frank, popular KTLA cartoon master, will appear in the Wood PTA summer show slated for Wednesday, June 28, in the Wood Auditorium. The show will start at 1 p.m. Several contests, prizes, and other fun will be the order of the day. Tickets for the event will be on sale at the door.

Four Plays Featured in El Camino Summer Drama

Four dramatic productions will be presented by El Camino College during the coming six weeks of summer school, Harold Wennstrom, assistant director of instruction, announced today.

Slated for presentation are "Juno and the Paycheck," "Visit to a Small Planet," "New Clothes for the Emperor," and "Bus Stop." "Juno," an Irish drama, will be directed by Lucille Liberator, former El Camino student, who is presently working with the National Broadcasting Co. It will be staged on July 7 and 8 at 8:30 p.m.

THE SECOND play, "Visit to a Small Planet," will be presented on July 14 and 15 with an 8:30 p.m. curtain time. The comedy is based upon the theory that a man from a small planet comes to earth to live. Mike Hoctor, who portrayed the role of "Billis" in the ECC production of "South Pacific" last year, will direct.

Four performances of the children's play, "New Clothes for the Emperor," will be given with showings set for July 21 at 7:30 p.m. and on July 22 at 10:30 a.m., 2:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Another El Camino alumna, Bonnie Flagg, will direct. Miss Flagg was active on the ECC stage, her performance as "Peter Pan" being one of her best-remembered. She is currently completing her student work at Long Beach State College.

FINAL PLAY of the summer series will be "Bus Stop," directed by Joe D'Agosta, former Warrior student who is now casting director for extras and small parts at MGM. Scheduled for production on July 28 and 29, the play will start at 8:30 p.m.

Tickets for all shows will be placed on sale in the college student store on June 26. A charge of $1 will be made for all but the children's play. Tickets for the latter will be 75 cents. No seats will be reserved.

Art Students Win Awards At ECC Show

Gardena's Rotary Club and the Hickson's Gallery of Manhattan Beach have awarded six art students awards for their demonstration of skill, creativity and efforts in El Camino College's eleventh annual Art Show.

Psychology Instructor Dr. Lyle Tussing, a member of the Rotary group, presented the awards from the local organization at the Annual Awards Banquet last week.

AWARDS of $50 went to Orlbert Houston in the ceramics division, Don E. Moore in fine arts and to Maxine Norman in design.

Hickson's Gallery, in the South Bay area awarded purchase certificates of $25 to Stephen Osako, $15 to Joseph Lema and $5 to Marilyn Okutagawa, based on requirements of scholastic record, creativity, effort and progress in art training.

RUSSELL HICKMAN, owner of the house of exhibits, gives the certificates yearly "for the encouragement of students in the various fields of art." Chairman of the committee for the selection was Donald C. Green, El Camino counselor. Assisting Green were Miss Mildred K. Walker, Robert Niece, Charles Bluske, Willie Suzuki, Richard Oliver and Lyle Clark.
